COMMITTEE ASKS CHINA ASKS U. S. CUT IN U. S. TAXES RECALL TROOPS

THE REPUBLICANS HAVE NEW PROGRAM READY

AUTO TAX TO REMAIN;
NO LOSS ON ESTATE TAX

Repeal of the Tax on Automobile Trucks and Tires and Automobile Accessories, but With Tax on Automobiles Retained.

Washington.—Sentiment as developed among members of the house ways and means committee during hearings of the past two weeks makes probable the approval by the Republican majority of the following as features of the new tax bill:

A reduction in the maximum surtax rate from 40 to 20 per cent.

A reduction in normal rates on individual incomes from 2, 4 and 6 per cent to rates ranging from 1 to 5 per cent.

Reduction of the maximum estate tax rate from 40 to 20 per cent, with a provision by which a greater credit is given for amounts paid under state inheritance laws.

Repeal of the tax on automobile trucks and tires and automobile accessories, but with the tax on automobiles retained.

Repeal of the gift tax.

Repeal of the publicity provision of the present law.

Provisions for strengthening the board of tax by providing larger salaries and long terms for a permanent membership of about sixteen.

The ways and means committee will commence the consideration of the bill in executive session. Its purpose is to have the completed bill ready to report to the house when congress convenes in December. Democratic members of the committee are to be allowed to sit with the Republican members in executive sessions, the administration forces having a sufficient majority this time to make it unnecessary to object to the Democrats while perfecting the bill, as they did during the framing of the 1924 act.

Republican leaders talk of the possibility of framing a non-partisan measure which can be reported unanimously from the ways and means committee, but the Democrats scout such a possibility and plan to file a minority report.

The program as it is tentatively taking shape in the minds of Republican members of the committee contemplates an aggregate tax reduction of from $300,000,000 to $350,000,000.

The reduction in estate taxes, together with an increase from the present credit for state inheritance taxes, which is limited to 25 per cent of the federal tax, will mean no loss at all the first year and probably not to exceed $25,000,000 thereafter.

Notwithstanding the recommendation of the secretary of the treasury for the repeal of the estate tax, either immediately or at the end of one year, there is a strong probability that the Republican members of the committee will advise the administration that it must be content at this time to secure a reduction in rates. It has been made apparent at the hearings that opposition to repeal of the tax until uniformity of state inheritance laws is secured is so strong as to make its repeal at this time virtually impossible.

"CITY OF ROME" SKIPPER BLAMES U-BOAT IN COLLISION

Boston.—Vigorous denial that he had disobeyed any of the laws of the seaway was made by Captain John H.
Diehl of Everett, Mass., master of the steamer City of Rome, testifying before the naval board of inquiry investigating the collision September 25, in which the submarine S-51 was sunk with the loss of thirty-three lives.

Captain Diehl told of seeing a white light for some time before the collision and suddenly a red one. "If he had shown a red light all the time as he should there would not have been any collision," said the captain.

Captain Diehl admitted he passed sixteen or seventeen minutes on the portside of the pilot house, where he did not see the white light on his starboard and returned to the starboard only a few minutes before the collision.
He maintained throughout that in rescue work and in maneuvering the steamer before and after the accident he had done everything possible.

Debt Settlement Story Denied

Rome.—The Volta Agency, the semi-official news agency of Italy, issued a denial of reports that a practical agreement for the settlement of the Italian debt to the United States has already been reached. It stated that there has been only an exchange of viewpoints thus far.

APPEAL MADE TO PRESIDENT BY COMMITTEE FOR JUSTICE

FRIENDSHIP WITH CHINA
MAY CHANGE TO ENMITY

U. S. May at Any Time, Under the Present Circumstances, Be Engaged in War Without Authorization From Congress.

Washington.—Charging that the United States is using guns and bayonets in China to enforce unequal treaties, the American Committee for Justice to China asked President Coolidge to withdraw all American warships and troops from China. American manufacturers, bankers and missionaries are profiting under these treaties, it is asserted.

The committee, which includes educators, religious leaders and men and women active in many branches of activity, made its request in a letter to the president. It asks that the United States, aside from withdrawing her warships and troops, adopt a policy which will insure:

1.—Tariff autonomy for China.

2.—The abolition of extraterritoriality.

3.—The return of foreign concessions, settlements and leases to China and the restoration of her full sovereignty.

4.—The allocation or cancellation of our unequal treaties with China, which give her the status of inequality.

Dr. Harry F. Ward, national chairman of the committee and author of the letter, called the attention of the president to existing conditions in China and declared that unless the historic friendship that China has for us because of our past policy is bound to be transformed into enmity.

Dr. Ward declared that under the present circumstances the United States may, at any moment, by the work of a consul or the act of a naval officer or a marine, be engaged in war with China without any authorization by congress.

He stated that in the Shanghai strike following the shooting of unarmed students by foreign police (May 30, 1925), we supplied thirteen out of twenty warships to maintain the policy of control and taxation of Chinese by foreigners without representation, that our marines were quartered in a Chinese university, that a high school was arbitrarily closed by foreign orders and that our naval forces are still on shore serving as police at Shanghai.

REV. CARNEGIE CALLS U. S. "MONKEY HOUSE"

London.—Rev. William M. Carnegie, canon of Westminster, who has just returned from the United States, is quoted in an interview given the Evening News as saying that "the canon in the life of America is divorce," and as declaring "with all seriousness that America is degenerating from a human society into a monkey house."

"Divorce," he asserted, "is rotting away the heart of that great country.
In many states practically every marriage, after a very short and hectic period, ends in the divorce court. The modern American couple gets married with the idea of divorcing each other within a fortnight."

"The laws of America help them to do it. They can get a divorce for anything. Hundreds of excuses are ready to their hand, incompatibility of temperament, the man's fondness for baseball, the way the woman wears her hair—anything will serve."

Senate Favors World Court Plan Washington.—President Coolidge was told by Senator Willis of Ohio that the senate foreign relations committee would vote in a ratio of four to one in favor of the resolution for American adherence to the world court with the Harding-Hughes-Coolidge reservations. The senator, who is a member of the committee, said he had no doubt the vote in the senate would show about the same ratio. Asserting that "the people are for it and the Republican party is for it, having indorsed the court proposal at the Cleveland convention," he declared the League of Nations was not involved as an issue.

Mute, Pilot Die in Crash Independence, Kas.—Dead and dumb since birth, Paul Gibson, 25, saw an article in a newspaper telling how a man recovered his hearing after taking a ride in an airplane. Clutching at this faint hope, Gibson engaged H.
H. Caulkins, 28, of Parsons, Kas., a pilot, for the experiment. When the plane reached the altitude of approximately 5,000 feet, spectators saw one wing collapse and the ship crashed to earth. Both men were instantly killed.

the age of 101. The deceased was a native of Cornwall, Canada, and had teen children, nine of whom survive her.

lege station to connect with mains at Eighth and Arch streets.

THE COMMUNITY CHEST

"Have A Heart"

Did you ever take a subscription paper in your hand and go among your neighbors, from door to door? Perhaps you did. And you remember something particularly well. You gratefully remember the folks who had a heart. They greeted you as though they knew just how greatly you dreaded your difficult, public-spirited job, and they said their say with a friendly smile. You went on your round not dreading the next calls nearly so much, and you thought to yourself that folks who have a fellow feeling are worth their weight in gold.

And now, between November 9 and 19, somebody who has been tagged as "it" for committee work is going to call on you, and you are going to have a heart and smile as sweetly as you know how and take pen in hand and sign for the amount that you know best.

The Community Chest, as a plan to consolidate and simplify the financing of public service organizations, has proved satisfactory. Its practice is becoming nation-wide. The difference in drives conducted here, as compared to drives in other communities, is principally this: having a better than average class of people, we give more than the average per capita in less than the average time.

Ralston Alison has general supervision of the subscription campaign. Captains for the various districts represented in the Campbell Community Council are: Mrs. E. W. Ohlen, Campbell; Mrs. Geo. C. Payne, Moreland; Mrs. W. H. Cilker, Cambrian; Mrs. A. L. W. Zillmer, Union; Mrs. W. R. Coupland and Geo.
Parso, Hamilton; W. R. Porter, Meridian, and C. E. York, San Tomas.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

On Friday evening, October 30, a very enjoyable Hallowe'en party was held at the home of Miss Elizabeth Canuel, Quito Road. The house was artistically decorated in black and orange.
The witch, with her train of bats and cats, reigned over the festivities. After games, initiations, fortune telling, and dancing, refreshments were served. The table was beautifully arranged with Hallowe'en notions. The refreshments consisted of ice cream, cookies, individual fancy cakes, fruit punch, and a large cake which contained a ring, dime, doll, and a button. The rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

Those present were Misses Mary Louise Raisch, of Los Gatos and San Francisco, Azule Breeding, Ellen Armstrong, Charlina Breeding, Patricia Hunter, Ruth Matteson, Hollis Knopf and Elizabeth Canuel.

Sunday being Mr. S. G. Rodeck's birthday, his immediate family had planned a family reunion as a surprise and the following relatives were assembled for dinner. Mr. R. Kynock, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kynock and son, Mr. Lee Kynock, and Mrs.
Edna Hoirup, all of Petaluma; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mattley, of Hayward; Mrs. Wm. Shepard and Miss Una Shepard, of Texas; Mr.
John Rodeck, San Jose; Mr. and

P. T. A. HOLDS INTERESTING SESSION

The regular meeting of the Campbell Grammar P. T. A. was held Tuesday, November 3.

The first two numbers on the program given by the low third grade, under the direction of Mrs.
Bradley and Miss Dunlap were greatly enjoyed.

Rev. Wm. Eckles gave a very profitable talk on "Peace" using the poster "America First" as his main theme.

Mrs. S. N. Hedegard spoke on magazines and books all members should have and emphasized especially the "State P. T. A." and the "Child Welfare" magazines.
She also called attention to the benefits derived from wearing a P. T. A. pin.

At the conclusion of the program the president, Mrs. Schuyler, conducted the business meeting. Many novel plans for the year were discussed. December 4 was the date decided on for "Father's Night." The following committee have the affair in charge: Mesdames Lanphear, Bollinger, Wellington, Lear, Sav-eker, Davidson and Morton.

As a means of reimbursing the treasury a carnival was planned for December 17. Mesdames Hedegard, Husted, Lennox, Farley, Hyde, Gardner and Conner are the committee who are working to make this a grand success.

The attendance prize was won by Miss Mace's class. The ladies adjourned to the cafeteria where coffee and cake were served.

were dinner guests Saturday evening of their daughter Mrs. L.
E. Eddleman and in the evening a company of friends surprised them all. The evening was pleasantly passed with cards and in a farewell visit. Mr. and Mrs.
Eddleman went to San Francisco to bid von voyage to Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, who sailed for Honolulu Wednesday. They will remain until June with Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Campbell at Waimanalo on the island of Oahu.

JUGO-SLAVIA STUDIED BY WOMAN'S CLUB

The study of Jugo Slavia, which was the country under consideration at this week's meeting of the Country Woman's Club was another subject replete with interest. The history of these little countries that have been handed about from one kingdom to another is full of tragedy.

Jugo-Slavia or the kingdom of the Serbs, Croats and Slovenes, was organized after the war and includes the old kingdom of Serbia and some of the former territories of Austria Hungary, Bosnia, Dalmatia, parts of Banat and Bacskia, and the kingdom of Montenegro which was united later.

Mrs. Galbraith had as her part of the program an account of Serbian history and geography.
All of these people are essentially agrarian, altho mining and lumbering are important industries.
Their history has been a long conflict between the Greek church and its potentates and the Austrian powers and the Roman church.

The conflict over the city of Fiume and the negotiations after the armistice were presented by Mrs. Hubbell. She read some of President Wilson's expressions regarding the allotment of this port to Jugo Slavia.

The chairman, Mrs. Ellen R.
Smith, opened the subject by reviewing the history of the Southern Slavs who settled this territory and were successively conquered by Romans, Northern races and various nations.

She gave a brief resume of the constitution and government which was established in its present form in 1921. Belgrade is the capital of the kingdom. Mrs.
Smith said that her study of these small nations had made her more firmly an advocate of peace than ever before, as she learned how they had been successively the prizes of first one stronger warring country after another.

The club voted to join the County Federation in buying a redwood tree in one of groves to insure the preservation of some of the redwood forests. This purchase was made from the personal fund of the club amounting to seven and a half cents a member.

BRIDGE AND MAH JONGG

Mrs. F. V. Perrott and Mrs. R.
A. Shearer entertained two groups of their friends on Thursday and Friday afternoons of last week, bridge and mah jongg being the diversions.

The home of Mrs. Perrott on Alice Avenue was the scene of the first party, and the Friday gathering was at Mrs. Shearer's on South Fourth street. Autumn flowers were effectively placed about the rooms and Hallowe'en novelties added gaiety to the dainty refreshment tables.

Mrs. J. C. Ainsley, Mrs. E. R.
Kennedy, and Mrs. G. B. Rodeck won the honors at bridge on Thursday and Friday, Mrs. T.
L. Mendel and Mrs. L. T. Lenox scored for bridge and Mrs. W. C.
Bohnett for mah jongg.

SAFETY VS SORROW

Mr. Antone Ferro has been made traffic officer at the grammar school street crossing to insure safer movement of the school children. He is at the crossing from 8 to 9 in the morning, 12 to 1 at noon and 2 to 2:10 in the afternoon.

Parents are urged to have their children follow the school instructions as to crossing the street and motorists must be governed by the regulations and orders issued relative to fast driving on these streets at open session periods.

Mr. Ferro has already given a warning to several drivers who have been going too fast at this point and he hopes the warning may be sufficient.

THE LEGION AND ARMISTICE DAY

While no citizen or no organization is barred from assuming the duties incident to an Armistice celebration, it is well that the American Legion posts have launched the idea and taken charge of nearly all of these events.

The Legion is a stabilizing influence in American life. It was for the boys who represented the ideals of the Legion, whether members or not, that the North American continent was shaken to its foundations on that eventful November 11, 1918.

It is always a pleasure to celebrate in behalf of peace. We need something to remind us of the tragedy of war; and Armistice Day seems to be the healthful antidote. If this nation did not believe in peace—if the American Legion did not have the cause of peace and domestic tranquility at heart—we would be celebrating a mobilization day instead of an armistice day. This alone is proof of a wholesome trend of popular thought.

As long as the American Legion stands for the eternal principles of peace, protection and patriotism, the American people will stand by it. The ideals of Liberty are indeed abstract—beautiful but useless—unless translated into active, virile citizenship; and, as we understand it, this is one of the things for which the Legion stands.

THE REWARD OF WELL DOING

When we are engaged in work that offers no specific monetary reward, often we are confronted with the thought that we shall never be rewarded for the effort. Then after a time something happens that seems to echo back to us the benefits of our labor. It may be a crippled child brought back to normal bodily activity; or the establishment of an institution whose objects are altruistic and elevating to mankind. But for every good work we are rewarded sometime and in some manner. As the lever has lifting power in proportion to the length of its lifting arm and fulcrum, so has man the ability to accomplish good works in proportion to his breadth of vision and the application of his talents to the job in hand. The mere satisfaction of a job completed is itself a rich dividend. The thrill of a problem solved is genuine pay. Well-doing is its own reward.

CITY PLANNING

"A city without a plan!" Would you resent such a statement applied to your city or town? Yet there are comparatively few cities or towns that have had the advantage of co-operative growth or whose lay-out and expansion has been the result of a well formulated plan.

In many cases non-technical minds as well as occasional expert counsel have contributed suggestions here and there which have helped to solve problems of traffic, architectural design, relief of congested areas, and zoning of industry, business and residences. But commendable as these ideas have been, they are temporary, because the life of one man is shorter than the life of the city.

Expert Jones says what should be done in this generation, and then Expert Smith says what should be done in the next. The result is an in-harmonious trend in community development. The ideal city plan is one formulated as a permanent scheme of growth. Ten, twenty, fifty or even a hundred men and women may comprise the planning body. Others succeed them in office from time to time, but the plan goes on. They look ahead fifty or a hundred years. By common consent, which usually is backed up by ordinance, the plan is carried forward little by little as the city can afford, and each new development dove-tails into the general plan.

Quoting from the New York Sun we learn that city planning is now active in 22 states out of the 48, and has obtained favorable hearing in all but 6 of the others. During 1924, city planning was under way in 350 American cities—an increase of more than 100 over the previous year.

The Des Moines Capital reminds us that it cost 50 million dollars to widen the streets of Boston. Extension of Michigan avenue in Chicago cost 20 million. Not many years ago it would have cost less than half that amount. There was a time when it would have cost nothing.

GIVE THE HOME MERCHANT FIRST CHANCE

Sometimes it happens that the man who, in social life, would feel badly for having committed a social blunder against his business friend, feels little or no compunction in turning down the same man in a business deal even where no odds exist. Give the home merchant the first chance to bid for your purchases. A safe rule is, if the home merchant hasn't got it he will order it for you. Give him something to work for, and he will take pride not only in duplicating but in bettering the price of the foreign trader. Remember this: If you trade in the other fellow's home town, and the other fellow trades in his home town, after a while you won't have any home town.

Seek Sound Advice Before Investing

Mrs. P. B. Payne is suffering from a bad case of tonsillitis.

Mrs. Eldora Preston is steadily improving from her recent illness and is able to sit up part of the time.

Miss Hollis Knopf was the house guest for the week end of Mr. and Mrs. John Canuel, Quito Road.

Misses Ruth Matteson and Gertrude Fink spent the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Greene, Sobey Road, Los Gatos.

The regular meeting of the Woman's Guild of the Congregational church will be held Thursday, November 12 at 2 o'clock p. m. in the church parlors.

Hallowe'en passed this year with no destructive mischief, although ghosts and masked faces were quite in evidence among the children during the earlier evening hours.

Moreland Club will give a dance and card party at its Club House on Payne avenue Saturday evening, Nov. 14. A cordial invitation is extended. This is a benefit for the Club House.

The northwest division of the Congregational Guild will hold a food sale on Saturday, November 14, at C. H. Whitman's store. A variety of aprons and fancy articles will also be on sale.

High school P. T. A. will hold its regular session at the high school annex Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Mrs. Dana Thomas, chairman of the state home department will be the speaker of the meeting.

W. H. Stray, who is an authority on insurance spoke Monday evening to the members of the Legal Fraternity of the U. of Santa Clara. This was the third in a series of lectures given before that fraternity.

C and D Classes of the high met defeat at the hands of the Santa Clara teams last week. The C's score was 16 to 10; the D's 8-7. Both these teams will journey to Redwood City today to play their respective rivals.

Mrs. Elmarie Hurlburt Hylar and children, of Sutter Creek, are here for a short visit at the J. D. Blaine home. Mrs. Hylar is Worthy Matron of her Eastern Star and was in attendance at Grand Lodge session at Santa Cruz recently.

In the Grange notes of last week the date for the Excursion of the National Grange thru Campbell should have read November 20. At that time the Orchard City Grange will distribute cartons of stuffed prunes and other fruit products to the delegates.

Plans are well under way for the campaign for the Community Chest, which will be held here November 9 to 19. Ralston Allison is general chairman and the territory is being divided under captains and assistants as heretofore. Campbell's quota is the same as last year.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Clendenen have gone to Sacramento to attend the State Grange which convenes there today and will continue until Nov. 10, when the National Grange meets in the same city. A number of Orchard City grangers are planning to be present at the National sessions.

The Campbell town basket ball team won its first City League game Saturday night at the San Jose Y. M. C. A. court. The score was Campbell 27, Washington Square 12. The local team were: F. Blaine, Bonaccorso, and W. Davis, forwards; Lumb and Robinson, centers; Field and Shelley, guards.

Charles Berry, who has been in the S. P. Hospital in San Francisco for some time, where he was operated upon, came home Saturday and is well on the road to recovery. He was down town on Wednesday and walking quite "pert" for an invalid. Campbell doesn't seem quite right without "Charlie" going and coming.

PICTURES ON DISPLAY

Lovers both of nature and art are being attracted by Frank H. Cutting's collection of sea and landscapes now on exhibition at the Thomas Welton Stanford Art Gallery.

Splendid scenes of the Pacific coast—sea and sky, dune and tree, mountain and garden—are represented in forty paintings. Nature has been caught in her "varying moods"—now it is the chill and mystery of a forsaken beach and cypress trees, "ghosts of the fog", in the background—and again gorgeous beds of wild flowers flashing colors like prisms in the sun.

The "Gnarled Guards", wind blown cypress trees, stand watch between wave and sand with linked branches and a perfect understanding born of identical hardships. "The Passing Shower", the "Eagles' Crag", "Grey Day" each presents its moods. Perhaps Cutting's strongest hold in this ability to grasp the moods of nature.

His favorite poem, memorized in boyhood, is Bryant's Thanatopsis.

"To him who in the love of nature holds

Communion with her visible forms, she speaks

A various language; for his gay-er hours

She has a voice of gladness, and a smile

And eloquence of beauty, and she glides

Into his darker musings, with a mild

And healing sympathy, that steals away

Their sharpness, ere he is aware."

Frank Cutting was born in Riceville, Iowa, Oct. 8, 1872, and his boyhood was one of forced intimacy with nature as he followed the plow down the furrows of an almost endless prairie farm. His mother first initiated him into the mysteries of mixing pigment and Frank was an apt pupil, for he was very soon making large oil copies of any colorful pictures he could find.

His further art studies, after the family moved west, were under Prof. School of the State Normal School, San Jose, and Miss E. E. Booth of the College of the Pacific.

In later years he associated with a group of artists who have done splendid work in portraying the coast and inland scenes of Central California. William Adam, Charles H. Harmon, Charles B. Hudson, and W. A. Codrington. He has also sketched with Frank Peebles, portrait artist of Chicago, who has lately been drawn to landscape work.

F. H. Cutting's collection of paintings will be on exhibit at Stanford University throughout the month of November, and will give visitors a chance to see Oregon and California thru the trained eyes of a sympathetic artist—one who has diligently sought hidden charm of stream and forest, and interpreted the ever changing moods of mountain, sea and sky.

Misses Patricia Hunter and Ruth Matteson gave a delightful Hallowe'en party to a number of their friends Saturday evening. This affair took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Greene, Sobey Road, Los Gatos. During the evening, the guests received many ghostly scares. After games and dancing, refreshments were served. The table was prettily decorated in true Hallowe'en style. The company was served with ice cream, cake, chocolate and wafers.

The guests were: Gertrude Fink, Elizabeth Canuel, Charline Breeding, Ellen Armstrong, Hollis Knopf and Azule Breeding.

Better Church Music Week at the Congregational Church Nov. 8 to 15

Next Sunday morning Mrs. Frank W. Hodgdon, of Berkeley will meet with the Bible School at 9:45. At the 11 o'clock hour she will speak on the theme: "The Spiritual Interpretation of Music in the Church."

Mrs. Hodgdon will bring us a great uplift and a new appreciation of the value of music. Everybody Come.

Additional supports are being placed under the historic bell, which has stood in the belfry of the St. Patrick's Catholic church in Grass Valley, Nevada county, for a half century. A short time ago it was discovered that the pinnings were weakening and immediate steps were taken by Rev. Father James O'Meara to make it secure for nearly as many more years as it already has stood. The bell is said to be one of the oldest church bells in California and popular legend of the vicinity has it that specimens of gold are from the local mines were melted into the flux from which the bell was cast. However, the church records fail to verify that.

More per Cow Rather than More Cows Says U. S. Bureau Chief

In a Chicago address, recently, Dr. C. W. Larson, Chief of the United States Bureau of Dairying, made a plea for greater production per cow rather than an increase in the number of cows.

The average cow in the United States yields annually only about 4,000 pounds of milk of which 2.7% is butterfat.

Careful breeding and elimination by test in the milk herd makes an increase to 8,000 pounds of milk annually per cow not impossible with the average dairyman. This would net the milk producer $75.00 above feed cost per cow as compared with the present average of only $26.00.

Membership in a cow-testing association and the maintenance of herd records are extremely desirable. The system of records should at least include an identification record, an account of production for each cow—the amount of feed given and breeding dates. For a grade dairy herd, the record system may be quite simple.

Dr. C. W. Larson keeps track of milk cows on farms of the country, and how much milk they give.

Cow-testing associations promote a more faithful follow-through of the rudiments of dairying. Among them are intelligent feeding, proper stabling, regular milking, thorough grooming, periodical clipping of the long hair from flanks, udder and underline and other attendant precautions against the presence of bacteria in the milk.

In cow-testing associations, records of the milk and butterfat production of pure bred cows are made under the supervision of the association and are given official recognition.

Flower Named

When Richard Diener, of Kentfield, Cal., famed as a gladiolus breeder, fathered a motion at the recent annual convention of the American Gladiolus Society, that officially the plural of gladiolus should be the same as the singular, there was settled a horticultural controversy of long standing.

The American Gladiolus Society not only adopted "gladiolus" as the plural rather than "gladioli", but it also ruled that the proper pronunciation was to make the "o" long and to accent it incorrect.

California growers continued their record of winnings at the annual show held in connection with the American society's meetings.

There are over 200 newspapers in Peking. Imagine that many editors fighting one another!

A substantial new industry representing an outlay of $300,000 was opened in Tulare county, recently when the Abramson and Bode Corporation of Los Angeles put into operation its lime plant four miles east of Lindsay on the Visalia Electric railway.

State and county officers, headed by Sheriff Elmer Gum of Placer county, descended on the tiny village of Westville in the Forest Hill divide country recently and arrested the entire population for trapping bears and alleged possession of doe meat and illicit liquor, according to word received in Sacramento by the state fish and game officials.

Plans are being completed for a brick veneer school building with roof to be erected at Walnut Grove, Sacramento county. It will have four classrooms and an auditorium. It will cost about $60,000.

Thirty-four canneries in different parts of California engaged in canning and processing olives were licensed by the state board of health in accordance with the provisions of a law passed at the last session of the legislature. The purpose of the law is to bring olive canneries under the inspection of the board to insure the enforcement of sanitary regulations designed for the protection of both the olive industry and the public health. The new law did not become effective until July 24, and the licenses issued were the first to be granted. Action was taken after the inspectors reported that the canneries were complying with the necessary standards in packing operations.

Reports from thirty-one counties of the state are to the effect that ground squirrels are becoming scarcer. A total of 1,062,022 pounds of prepared poisoned grain was used either by or under the supervision of the federal and state departments of agriculture and county horticultural commissioners in 1924. In addition, 650,604 pounds of carbon bisulphide and 32,240 pounds of calcium cyanide were distributed. The total cost of the material was about $159,971. It was used on 3,302,182 acres and is believed by officials to have produced a saving against crop and range losses of not less than $3,000,000. The state work against ground squirrels began in 1917.

Following nearly fifty years of attempting to establish his rights to governmental recognition, William M. Phillipson of Sonora, Tuolumne county, has received a pension allowance of $75 a month and is in possession of his first check. Phillipson was a seaman in the navy in 1864. In the spring of 1865 he was shanghaied in San Francisco and carried to the Arctic. During his absence he was listed as a deserter. A claim for $300 bounty by reason of his enlistment during the Civil war and back pension from the time he first made application has also been made by the veteran.

John Chapman, pioneer resident of Diamond Springs, Eldorado county, celebrated his seventy-fifth birthday at his home here. A banquet was served to relatives and close friends. Chapman was born in Madison county, October 3, 1850, and came across the plains with his parents in an ox train of fifty-two wagons, three yoke of oxen to each wagon. After many encounters with predatory raiders in which they lost cattle and oxen, the party arrived in Placerville, then Hangtown, in September, 1852.

A petition has been presented to the board of city trustees at Roseville, Placer county, asking that a bond election be called to submit to the voters of Roseville the proposal to acquire a municipal water system. A similar election was held in 1922 and failed by a small margin to receive the necessary two-thirds vote. It is thought by many in favor of the proposition that it would carry by a good margin in a vote this time. No action was taken on the petition at the meeting.

So great is the demand for cotton pickers that it cannot be filled, according to W. G. Maas, manager of the Fresno branch office of the state free employment bureau. Maas said that his office had placed 1,341 persons in positions during the past month, placing fifth among the eight state offices in the number of placements made. Demand for grape pickers caused the number of positions filled in September to increase over the total of 895 in August.

The state board of health and the state department of agriculture declared war on the practice of "planting" disease germs as a means of exterminating rodents. The declaration was especially aimed at the so-called rat exterminators which are almost invariably cultures of bacteria. State officials said these cultures are dangerous in that they are liable to contaminate food supplies intended for human consumption.

Recommendations for a bond issue to provide better roads for eastern and southern Siskiyou county will be made to the board of supervisors as the result of a meeting of the Mt. Shasta Chamber of Commerce, when the county's road situation was discussed. Among the roads that will be recommended is one from Mt. Shasta through McCloud toward Fall River Mills to the Shasta county line.

County Superintendent of Schools Sarah Greenhalgh of Jackson, Amador county, reports that the attendance in the rural schools has greatly increased this fall term. During the past several weeks the county superintendent has visited a number of the rural schools and found that practically all of them have been undergoing improvements in the school buildings and the playgrounds.

Judge E. M. Whitney of Willits, Mendocino county, is now editor of the Willits News. Whitney is a newspaper man of years' experience.

Twenty autos were recently sold by the Los Angeles police department, bringing a total of $58.62. Automobiles were sold from $1 to $4.

That work will commence shortly upon the new $27,000 Methodist Episcopal church edifice in Marysville, Yuba county, and be hastened during the winter months, was indicated through the signing of the contract by the trustees and the announcement of the contractor that he is now in a position to start and to press the work to completion. The structure will be of brick.

A meeting was held in the council rooms of the civic auditorium at Lincoln, Placer county, to discuss the proposed irrigation system and the formation of an irrigation district.

Immigrants Eager to Settle in Paraguay

Little Paraguay is experiencing a rush of immigration not unlike the old-time gold rushes in the United States. Probably no South American country is receiving a larger number of immigrants in comparison to its size. German farmers are showing a decided preference for the little republic, where land can be obtained cheaply and favorable laws are being passed by the new administration, which seems to be governing satisfactorily to all political groups. Hardly a steamer arriving in South American ports from Europe fails to bring a group of emigrants en route to Paraguay. Several new German colonies have been established there. But the newest colony projected is that of a British syndicate that has purchased nearly 250,000 acres of farm land stretching for 15 miles along the Parana river. The company plans to bring over 1,000 British families as fast as houses can be provided for them. Still the most important colony project for Paraguay is that of the Canadian Mennonites, who are expected to begin their migration to their new home soon. The first group of 500 will prepare the way for 5,000 families from Canada.

IN DUTCH, SURE

"After she married that young nobleman from Holland she found his title was bogus and he hadn't a cent."

"Yes, she's in Dutch, sure."

Nelson Johnson has the contract from the Pacific Gas and Electric company of gathering 3,000,000 feet of logs in Lake Britton and on its shores and assembling them at the mouth of Clark creek, where they will be held behind a boom until they are to be sawed into lumber. The company's dam at Pitt Three made an artificial lake nine miles long. Before the flood gates of the dam were closed all the land that was to be inundated was stripped of timber and even brush. Timber large enough to be worked up into lumber was saved and allowed to float on the water of the lake as it was formed. It is estimated that Johnson will handle 12,000 logs. He uses a gasoline launch in towing them to the mouth of Clark creek.

AUTO CLUBS PLAN HIGHWAY PROGRAM

Development of a more businesslike policy of financing and completing California's state highway system will be furthered at a conference of representatives of the California State Automobile association and the Automobile Club of Southern California to be held in San Francisco November 6.

H. J. Brunner, chairman of the State Automobile associations' road committee, announced Saturday that the two automobile clubs, which have a combined membership of over 160,000 motorists, propose to develop a policy for future state highway procedure that will receive the approval of all interested organizations.

C. C. Cottrell, consulting highway engineer of the automobile association, and E. E. East, highway engineer of the southern automobile club, have been working on plans and estimates for several weeks. Their preliminary report will be before the joint highway committee of the two organizations at the November meeting in San Francisco Brunner said.
